

Incitamentum

Workshop: Gender and Boundaries

Date: 11 September 2026

Time: 09.00 – 17.00 hrs

Location: still to be determined

Trainers: Jeannette van Dongen and Arthur Roffelsen

About the training:

At work and in the media, you hear more and more about transgressive behaviour. Out of fear, many people are afraid to touch others, give a compliment, or make a joke. But is that a justified fear, or are we making each other more anxious than necessary? The day offers clarity for professionals, including confidential advisors, on what the debate about gender, #MeToo, and transgressive behaviour truly means in the workplace. What is acceptable, what is not, what do you discuss, how do you address someone, and where does it make you uncomfortable when you hear or talk about this subject? The day provides insight and is a pleasant exploration of what is possible and what is certainly allowed.

Costs:

The training costs €499 excl. VAT incl. lunch and refreshments.
